Radial desks offer options to arrange them in most office spaces. Versatility in sizes allow to custom fit for individual needs considering space restrictions and office ergonomics. Thanks to functional worktop dimensions desks can be configured with extensions, creating meeting spaces or connected with same height storages to maximize work space.

The system is complemented by freestanding SONIC screens perfect for larger office spaces. Those free standing panels can be used as workspace dividers. Thanks to their high sound absorption levels, SONIC panels are great at noise reduction. The same sound absorbing technology is used for both high freestanding screens as well as desk panels.

OGI offers a wide selection of pedestals, desk storages, tambour or sliding door cabinets which can be arranged around desks to build separate areas.
 Smart storage solutions give more flexibility and save office space.
 Other than the normal function, high storages can act as dividers for greater privacy, whereas storages with desk height create extra work space.
